

Conference Announcement

The Eleventh Annual International Law and Religion Symposium:

“Religion in the Public Sphere: Challenges and Opportunities”

will be held at
Brigham Young University
October 3-6, 2004

Sponsored by:

*The BYU International Center for Law and Religion Studies
The J. Reuben Clark Law School, and
The David M. Kennedy International Center of
Brigham Young University
in conjunction with*

The International Academy for Freedom of Religion and Belief Interdisciplinary Program in Law and Religion, Columbus School of Law, Catholic University of America

*The Religion and Human Rights Program of the Human Rights Center of Columbia University
The International Commission for Freedom of Conscience
The International Religious Liberty Association
George Washington University Law School*

Continuing a tradition now entering its eleventh year, Brigham Young University will host an international law and religion symposium. This year's conference will focus on "Religion in the Public Sphere: Challenges and Opportunities." Participants will include leading experts and government officials from Europe, Asia, Africa, the Pacific, and North and South America. Sub-themes will include the following:

- Facilitating Religious Liberty through National Religion Laws
- Judicial Protection of Religious Freedom
- Islam and Pluralistic Societies: Comparative Experience
- Land Use and Sacred Space
- Clash of Religion and Secularism in the Public Sphere

For more information regarding the conference, hotel information, participants and program details, contact Deborah Wright at the BYU International Center for Law and Religion Studies. Phone: (801)422-6842; Fax: (801)422-0390; Email: law_religion@byu.edu.